In my opinion the levelling down of an existing bund is w within the meaning of section 4(2)(iv) of the Act in the same wa as the putting up a of a new bund. It is true that the latter involves maintenance and repair under chapter IV of the Act whil the former does not; but that is an incidental matter. and as ob observed by D.S.R.D. on p. 42 there might be issued incidental regulations under section 104 of the Act in the nature of injuctions in order to maintain the levelling effected under the scheme. A scheme may therefore provide for the demolition of an existing bund.
